

Imagine a Journal . . .

10PLUS1
LIVING
LINGUISTICS

- ... presenting peer-reviewed innovative research in the broader field of applied linguistics not only in established journal articles but also in unconventional, creative and entertaining forms such as brainstorming, 3-min-talk, ...is thinking about..., or infographic.
- ... offering exactly 10 plus 1 contributions at a time on a broad range of current topics in linguistics.
- ... inviting feedback on the contributions that appear as open-access files on the journal's website.
- ... offering a creative academic space that explicitly welcomes contributions not only from established but also from junior researchers and students working on excellent papers.
- ... emphasising the importance of presenting research in a sophisticated and aesthetically appealing way for those who consider linguistic curiosity both part of a profession and a unique way of life.

First issue Media Linguistics will be published on 15th September 2015.
